Advanced Structural Fat Grafting

“SAFI”

Date. April 25th ~ 27th (Wed. – Fri.), 2018

Venue. Seoul Clinic, Busan, Korea

Korean College of Cosmetic Surgery

Advanced Structural Fat Grafting “SAFI”

Greetings dear colleagues!

This program will enable participants not only to understand the anatomy and aging process of the face to experience on advanced perfect technique. After attending this workshop, participants will have the ability to apply the SAFI technique to achieve natural soft tissue contouring with high survival rate.

Facial fat grafting procedures have been actively performed according to Dr. Coleman's structural fat grafting method. Since then, various methods such as Balanced lipoplasty, FAMI, Complementary fat grafting, CAL and Nano fat have follow suit in facial fat grafting procedures. The main purpose of these methods is to restore the lost volume and return the patient's face to its young state.

SAFI method is an advanced technique that carries a fat grafting method with the concept of not only volume recovery but also face lifting effect and have the result of a perfect structural fat grafting.

The approach methods and surgeries of the essential procedures that must be performed to achieve natural and young facial contour, which are facial fat grafting procedure and complementary combination treatment of thread lifting and filler procedure, will be discussed and taught in this workshop. In addition, ADSC, PRP and Nano fat will be introduced as methods to increase survival rate.

This program will enable participants to not only understand the anatomy and aging process of the face, but also to experience the advanced perfect technique on facial fat grafting. After attending this workshop, participants will have the ability to apply the SAFI technique to achieve natural soft tissue contouring with high survival rates.

I sincerely welcome you to join us at the Advanced Structural Fat Grafting Workshop. See you there!
